INTRODUCTION

This book provides all the key words and phrases you are likely to need in everyday situations. It is grouped into themes, and key phrases are broken down into short sections, to help you build a wide variety of sentences. A lot of the vocabulary is illustrated to make it easy to remember, and “You may hear” boxes feature questions you are likely to hear. At the back of the book there is a menu guide, listing about 500 food terms, and a 2,000-word two-way dictionary. Numbers and the most useful phrases are listed on the jacket flaps for quick reference.

Nouns

All French nouns (words for things, people, and ideas) are masculine or feminine. The gender of singular nouns is usually shown by the word for “the”: le (masculine) and la (feminine). These change to l’ before a vowel. The plural form is les. You can look up the gender of words in the French–English dictionary at the back of the book.

Adjectives

Most French adjectives change endings according to whether they describe a masculine or feminine, singular or plural word. In this book the singular masculine form is shown first, followed by the singular feminine form:

I am lost

Je suis perdu/perdue

“You”

There are two ways of saying “you” in French: vous (polite form and plural) and tu (familiar). In this book we have used vous, which is normal with people you don’t know.

Verbs

Verbs change according to whether they are in the singular or plural. In phrases where this happens, the singular form of the verb is followed by the plural form:

Where is/are...?

Où se trouve/trouvent...?

Pronunciation guide

Below each French word or phrase in this book, you will find a pronunciation guide in italics. Read it as if it were English and you should be understood, but remember that it is only a guide and for the best results you should listen to native speakers and try to mimic them. Some French sounds are different from those in English, so take note of how the letters below are pronounced.

- a, à, â like a in father
- au like o in over
- c before a, o, and u, like k in kite
before e and i, like s in Sun
- ç like s in Sun
- cc like cc in accident
- ch like sh in ship
- e, eu like u in puff
- è, ê, e like e in fetch
- e, ez, er like ay in play
- g before a, o, and u, like g in get before e, i, and y, like s in leisure
- h silent
- i like ee in feet
- j like s in leisure
- o like o in toll
- oi like wa in wag
- ou like oo in shoot
- qu like k in kite
- r rolled at the back of the throat
- u like ew in dew
- ui like wee in between
- w like v in van

ESSENTIALS

In this section, you will find the essential words and useful phrases you need for basic everyday situations and for getting to know people. Be aware of cultural differences when you are addressing French people, and remember that they tend to be quite formal when greeting each other, using Monsieur for men, Madame for women and Mademoiselle for girls and younger women, and often shaking hands.
